

YOUR LIFE GRAPH

On the graph, place a dot at your age for each major event or turning point (branching point) in your life. Judge the event for the way you feel about it, plus or minus. How positive or negative do you feel about the event? Connect the dots representing major events in your life to create your lifeline. Draw a vertical line for your present age, and project your lifeline into the future. How long do you expect to live, and how do you expect to feel about the years ahead?
